HASTY CONCLUSIONS SHOULD BE AVOIDED

All Angles of Farm Enterprise Should Be Considered.

If Cows Were Sold There Would Ba No Way of Using Roughage-Laber Also Would Be Lost, Adding Another Burden.

(Prepared by the finited States Department of Agriculture.)

Husty conclusions should be avoided in making use of the results of the year's cost accounts for improving the organization of the farm, warns the United States Department of Agricul-All good farmers know that somethues a positive decrease in profits may ensue if an enterprise be dropped because, taken alone, it has failed to pay, t'ows, for instance, may not show a net profit, but if all the cows were sold there might be no other way of using the roughage, which would become a dead loss, Labor devoted night and morning to milking and feeding cows, and charged to them, would be entirely lost if the cows were sold and nothing supplied to fill in the time. Thus an added burden for the maintenance of latior would have to be borne by the other enterprises.

The fact that the hogs or the corn the future should be devoted solely to hogs or corn, It may be that the keeping of cows is partly responsible for making liegs so profitable, or that the growing of wheat, clover, or other crops in rotation with corn makes the latter crop much more profitable than t would have been if grown alone.

Similar conditions will be met with n all farms and, therefore, no audden hanges should be made on the basis of what a single year's accounts may indicate. All angles of the enterprise should be taken into consideration.

BURGLAR WANTED

By MABEL PARSONS

The social climbing Mrs. Hoge was loartbroken The clever "second tory worker" who had visited so ming tesdetains of the wealthy that the list might be that of the social register bed for some reason forgot to call then the Hoggs. There was a canother home in Tylerville that contained so toning cestly furnishings, silicer and jewelryparticularly jewelry and yet Mrs. tlong was deried a share of the lines itght with the ar stocracy.

"It shift as if we shift got nothing, Phiness," she sobbed, her anny diamonds theshing in the morroug sun as she poured the coffee, "There's the Joneses, and-

"Stop right there!" exclaimed Mr. Hogg Irritable, "Alu't I done all I entr? Alu't I gone all over this house every night and opened the windows? Why, last night I even left the front door half open, and did any burgint ome to? Did he, I ask you? No!" he enthuced, answering his own question,

What else he might have said will never be known, as the butter entered at that moment, and if there was any one of whom he stead in awe it was Henry the butler,

Success but come to the Hogge late In 11ft, and while Mr. Hogg was inellmed to lie back and take things easy, Mrs. Hogg was happy only when she was "among those present," Itnt fillings and a good sport and under her constant have be can her a pretix good second in their chase for social recognition. He athliated himself with every club and every sectal affair she suggested, and gave her every ideased thing she wanted-but there; pause a moment.

There is one thing in which he had failed. Mrs. flogg told him, in that heart touching, solibing way of hers, that the Powells and Bentons had a family tree, and she didn't have one. "Never mittel, Lucy," he said soothingly, "we got amoney enough to get a front lawn full of them!" So you see, dear reader, life heart was in the right Away from the eyes of Henry, they klessed in parting at the door.

"Cheer up, dear," said Phineas en courngingly, "we'll be robbed yet." And Lucy smited faintly in hope and partly because Mrs. Powell, across the street. was leading on, thinons waved his cane airtly as he entered his motor, for the same reasons that Lucy smiled, and he was off.

Arriving at his office he immediately rung for his secretary.

"Mr. Imgget," said he, in his cute little pempous was, "do you know and goest 'porch climber'? I mean, are you acquainted with any good crook? mean-what I that Is-" Plainly, Phineus was confused.

Mr. Dagget doesn't know yet what his employer meant, but he was glad to get out of his sight, and for the rest of the day he went about on the toe with a proist handkerchief in his hand, and a glassy look in his eyes, Now, while the Hoggs valued the notoriety of a burghery, let it be known that there was about Sinten) worth of jewelry, which was carefully concented; every night, that they had no intention of losing. That night, while pre-embellished with embroidered floral meless for head little of the manneral that Mrs. Howe had out all the lewelry In the case after a careful checking, a hout crust sounded through the house, and while they looked at each other, tirst in surprise and then in joy, that crash was followed by another.

"A burgher! A robber" Mr. Hogg

waher. Snapping on the lights in descent they arrived upon the score at the moment the polleemen had subdued his prisoner. Subdued doesn't convey the picture at all; he was worse than that, and as he stood there in the light. It is no wonder recognition was delayed. Mr. Hogg was the first to wake

"Why, it's Henry i" he exclaimed in amazement.

He was right. He was the butler, It seems that Henry was not a real burging-nothing like that-unite a duffer at it, in fact, it was simply a manifestation of his interest in his employers. He knew how analous they were to be robbed, and as it made him pervous to sleep in a house that was open to the world, he had resolved to the end the suspense for both. Steal nothing, you understand; just make a noise to arouse the household. That done, the collected articles on the ffor would lead to the belief that the burglar had been frightened away. Thus his employers could hold up their heads among the aristocracy of Tylery life.

As I sull before, Phineas was a good sport, and after Henry had whispered this explanation, he swallowed his disappointment and gave the watchful, emiting patrolman a sign indicating that his services would not be pended further.

Mrs. Hogg was the first to enter their chumber, when with a sudden shrick she fell lack into Mr. Hopg's arms.

"Oh! Phluens, we'ce been robbed!" she erled.

Mrs. Hogg was right! The case with Its $30,150) contents, forgotten in the excitement, was gone! And, as it subadquently proved, so was Heary!

Cucumbers are best planted in hills about four feet apart each way, specialists at the College of Agriculture say. The soil in these hills should be thoroughly prepared to a depth of from eight to 12 inches and a fork full of well rotted manure placed in each hill and covered with about two inches of soil. From eight to ten seeds usually are placed in each hill. White Spine or Davis ferfect are good varieties

Planting six to 12 bills of cantalaupes extends the usefulness of the garden. Rocky Ford, Netted Gem and Tip Top are good varieties. They should be planted in hills much the same as cucumbers.

THE Studebaker LIGHT-SIX will appeal to every buyer who wants a low-priced car that will be satisfactory in performance, appearance, comfort and endurance.

And in addition to its recognized superiority in these essentials, the LIGHT-SIX carries refinements found only on more expensive cars.

The LIGHT-SIX is equipped with cowl ventilator operated from the instrument board; cowl parking lights; inside and outside door handles and large rectangular plate-glass window in rear curtain. A thief-proof transmission lock, which reduces the rate of insurance to LIGHT-SIX owners 15 to 20 per cent, and cord tires are also standard equipment.

Long, semi-elliptic springs (50-inch in rear; 36-inch in front) and soft, genuine leather upholstered cushions, nine inches deep, provide unusual comfort.

Its 40-horsepower motor delivers ample power for the hard pull. And vibration is practically eliminated by Studebaker's method of machining the crankshaft and connecting rods.

The intrinsic value of the LIGHT-SIX is unmatched at anywhere near the price because Studebaker does not skimp on materials or workmanship but uses the best. It is built complete in the most modern and complete automobile plant in the world, making possible its low price of $1045, f. o. b.

DID YOU EVER STOP AND THINK, FRIENDS, WHAT A GRAND THING THE LANCASTER SPIRIT IS? How contagious it is and how proud we are of our city? Do you realize if we would back up this Pride by our Loyalty that we could be just twice as proud when we got through? AND THAT IS WHAT WE SHOULD ALL DO.

Try this awhile and see how good it feels to look yourself in the glass each morning and be able to say, "Howdy, Old Buoster!"

To tell you the truth, friends, if you could buy merchandise at atte on the dollar away from Lancaster you still cannot afford-either as a property owner or as a working person-to REMOVE THAT 50c FROM THE COMMUNITY.

When you do, you are knocking the props from under your own property values, undermining the financial structure that forms our industrial ex stence and thus remove from the working homes of our community JUST THAT MUCH SUSTEN-ANCE, COMFORT AND HAPPINESS.

Better Prices for Tobacco Better prices for Buriey Tobacco aiready have been paid on account of the organization of the Buriey Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association.

Men who remained outside the organization shared in the benefits accruing from the better prices due to the organization of the Association, There is mighty little doubt about that.

Your banker, your merchant, your professional men all favor the plan on which this Association was organized. The growers who have delivered their crops are pleased with the result. Ask any of them.

There are now more than 58,000 growers of Buriev Tobacco who have come to the definite conclusion to drop the old wasteful dumping system of selling lobacco and to adopt the modern, sensible, business-like merchandising plan so successful where ever it has been given a fair trial.

The only people who are asking you to stay out of the Association are those who would profit by your staying out. YOU will not profit, but THEY will, and they know it.

Come join your neighbors in this movement and let's make it unanimous. For information and contract write to
